DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of species I in the reply filed on 4/18/2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 4-5 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 4/18/2005.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites "the motor shaft". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Balsells (US# 5265890).

Balsells discloses all the limitations of the instant claims including; a shaft 130; a housing 128 which supports the motor shaft with freedom to rotate, the housing and the motor shaft forming at least one working chamber filled with pressure medium (note the seal is for fluid sealing), the housing having a sealing groove with a radially extending sidewall and a radially inward facing base; a seal comprising a one part sealing body received in the groove, the sealing body having one side resting against the base and another side resting against the shaft; and an anti-rotation 134 device which prevents the sealing body from rotating with respect to the housing. See figure 4d.

Regarding claim 2, see tension ring 136.

Regarding claim 3, see figure 1. The ring extends over 360 degrees all along the circumference of the seal.

Regarding claims 6-7, note the stop profile 134.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Balsells (US# 5265890) in view of Dewis et al (US# 6142731).

Balsells discloses all the limitations of the instant claims with exception to the increased diameter being circumferentially limited (claim 8) and a recess in the sidewall to allow passage of the increased diameter (claim 9). Dewis et al disclose a similar seal and further teach a stop profile 202 and a recess 200 for receiving the stop profile. See figure 5. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the stop profile and recess as taught by Dewis et al on the flange and housing of Balsells to further secure the seal from rotation, thereby improving the durability of the seal.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Balsells '316 and Janian.
